24-27. Golden Ring of Russia. Kostroma

Kostroma is the jewellery capital of Russia with more than 2000 jewellery manufacturers and many of them participate in the exhibition that celebrates its 10th anniversary this year. Among the participants of Golden Ring of Russia there are producers from many Russia's regions. The main centre of the jewellery production ( up to 40% of the total volume of Russian Federation ) attracts jewellery trade reps from all regions of Russia and CIS. For that reason Kostroma is visited by companies from the Ukraine, Belarus, Austria, Czech Republic, Switzerland, Thailand, Turkey etc. Foreign retailers and wholesalers also participate in the show because it is an attractive place for the suppliers of precious stones and equipment.

Golden Ring of Russia along with the exhibitions in Moscow (September) and St.Petersburg (February) is the main wholesale exhibition of the industry that is why it will be the venue to promote the new world brand Ploi Thai in Russia this year. A few dozens of Thai companies producing gemstones and jewellery will have a joint exposition on the Road Show under the patronage of the Thai Government and TGJTA.

The exhibition has been a part of International Jewellery Festival since its foundation in 2000. The festival's extensive cultural and sport program strengthens business and personal ties between the participants. That's why the festival is going to be the most anticipated event of the year in the industry. The programme of the Festival 2010 will include competitions of the professional jewellers, the technical symposium and the conference dedicated to the quality of gemstones apart from traditional sport competitions in football, volleyball, bowling, pool and archery. The special programme including transfer from Moscow to Kostroma (around 350 km), hotel accommodation on discounted rates, business meetings and entertainment is organized for the numerous foreign guests of the festival.
